

AceHardwareOutlet.com Now Offers PaySecure

Online hardware retailer gives consumers the option to pay securely with Internet PIN debit

Atlanta, GA, August 6, 2009 – Acculynk has announced that PaySecure, the first software-only service for Internet PIN debit, is now an available payment option at AceHardwareOutlet.com. AceHardwareOutlet.com, operated by AG Lock & Hardware, an Ace Hardware authorized retailer in Brooklyn, NY, offers the web's most competitive prices on appliances, hardware, tools and more.

"The addition of AceHardwareOutlet.com complements our growing list of merchants, since they are the first retailer in the hardware category to implement PaySecure," said Ashish Bahl, CEO of Acculynk. "We are pleased that AceHardwareOutlet.com recognizes the value and security PaySecure brings to online shoppers."

PaySecure's graphical PIN-pad appears at the merchant checkout when it is determined that a consumer's debit card can be used with a PIN and is in Acculynk's network of participating issuers. Consumers are given the choice to enter their PIN on the PaySecure PIN-pad or run the transaction as signature debit. If they choose to use PaySecure, they enter each digit of their PIN using their mouse, hit "Submit PIN" and receive payment confirmation from the merchant.

In July, Acculynk announced the addition of its first airline, AirTran, to its list of participating merchants, and the addition of a fifth EFT network, SHAZAM. AirTran and AceHardwareOutlet.com join 2Checkout.com and ShoppersChoice as merchants that currently offer PaySecure; additional merchant announcements are slated for August. SHAZAM joins ACCEL/Exchange, PULSE, NYCE and Credit Union 24 as participating EFT networks. Acculynk expects to announce the addition of a sixth EFT network in the next 30-60 days.
